STAT

Thank you for your letter of 28 July. It was good to hear from you again.

I have received a report on current assignment possibilities here which might be of interest to you and am sorry to advise you that there appears to be nothing which would take advantage of your interests and background. As our organization has grown older, our personnel requirements have become pretty stable and most of our recruitment is for junior officers who start at the bottom. We occasionally develop a need in the higher grade levels which cannot be met from within our staff but these vacancies ordinarily require highly specialized qualifications or background pertinent to the particular need. It would be hard to say when something of this nature might arise for a man of your talents and qualifications but we would like to feel free to approach you again if the occasion should arise.

Meanwhile, your letter serves to update your application and to reflect your continued interest in service with us. We are glad to know that there are men of your standing and background whom we can call on when they are especially needed.

Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely,
